Closing Date: October 30, 2017

The Faculty of Engineering and Applied Science at Queen’s University invites applications from suitably qualified candidates interested in teaching the following first year undergraduate course in the 2017/18 session.

APSC 172 Calculus II (Winter 2018)
Section 900 (Extended Program)
February 1, 2018 to June 30, 2018

Qualifications:

Minimum of M.Sc. in Mathematics or related field. Previous teaching experience at the University level will be preferred. Previous educational background and/or experience must be suited to teaching the course described below. Candidates must have excellent communication and presentation skills, as well as being capable of working as a member of a teaching team.

Course Description:
APSC 172 Calculus II (Section 900*, Winter 2018)

This course continues calculus concepts from APSC 171, including space curves, speed, and velocity. Functions of several variables, partial derivatives, differentials, error estimates, gradient, maxima and minima. Double and triple integrals, polar and cylindrical coordinates; applications to mass, center of mass, moment. Series, power series; Taylor polynomial approximations, error analysis. This course involves three lectures hours and one tutorial hour per week for twelve weeks.

The Section 900 Program is designed to give those students who have academic difficulties in their first year in Applied Science a second chance at some of the courses thereby allowing the student to recover and proceed into second year with a clear record. It can also be used by students to improve their overall average and to retain scholarships.

Expected Enrolment (subject to change):  80 students
